

Wampus Cat Basketball exists to develop men who compete with toughness, live with accountability, and serve with selflessness through daily immersion in a championship culture.

We believe that our values determine our culture, our culture produces our standards, and our standards dictate our direction. We strive to create an environment that both challenges and nurtures our athletes. We believe that facing hard truths and obstacles prepares young men for competition and for life's difficulties, while encouragement and solutions-oriented coaching help build the confidence necessary to take on any challenge.

We are committed to developing every athlete through progressive skill development, basketball IQ, game strategy, and embodiment of our team culture. We will teach players how to play, think, and compete while building on the foundation established at each level of the program. Our coaches will challenge and develop every athlete regardless of ability or level of play. Playing time will be based on adherence to team standards and the ability to impact winning, while our commitment to developing every player remains constant. Our goal is for each young man in our program to leave as a better basketball player, teammate, competitor, and person.
