

- A resident school district may permit a home-schooled student to participate in an interscholastic activity if:
  - The home-schooled student reports to the resident school district within the first eleven (11) days of the fall or spring semester of the resident school district; and
  - The home-schooled student or his or her parent advises the principal of the resident school in writing of the student's request to participate in the interscholastic activity before the signup, tryout, or participation deadlines established for students enrolled in the resident school.

- The principal of the resident school shall permit a home-schooled student to pursue participation in an interscholastic activity of the resident school if the student or the student's parent:
  - Before the signup, tryout, or participation deadlines established for the students enrolled in the resident school, provides to the principal a notice of the student's desire to pursue participation; and
  - Informs the principal in the notice that the student has demonstrated academic eligibility by obtaining:
    - A minimum test score of the thirtieth percentile on the Stanford Achievement Test Series, Tenth Edition, or another nationally recognized norm-referenced test in the previous twelve (12) months; or
    - A minimum score on a test approved by the State Board of Education

- If a home-schooled student's written request to participate in the interscholastic activity is approved under this section, the student:
  - Although not guaranteed participation in an interscholastic activity, shall have an equal opportunity to try out and participate in interscholastic activities without discrimination; and shall not participate unless he or she meets the criteria for participation in the interscholastic activity that apply to students enrolled in the resident school district, including:
    - Tryout criteria;
    - Standards of behavior and codes of conduct; and
    - The academic criteria
    - Practice times;
    - Required drug testing;
    - Permission slips, waivers, and physical exams; and
    - Participation or activity fees

- A home-school student who participates in an interscholastic activity may be:
  - Required to be at school not more than one (1) period per school day; and
  - Transported by the resident school district to and from interscholastic activities as the resident school district transports other students who are enrolled in the resident school.
