🦅🏌️ WALNUT HILLS GIRLS GOLF IS MAKING A STATEMENT

Three events. Strong scores. One message: the Eagles are ready to compete.

The Walnut Hills girls golf team has come out swinging in 2026 — and the Eagles are already turning heads across the Eastern Cincinnati Conference.

Walnut Hills opened the season with a 169–227 victory over Hamilton, setting the tone for what has been an impressive start. The Eagles followed that performance with a 322 at the ECC Preseason Tournament at Walden Ponds and a 335 at the Dog Days of Summer Invitational.

And the individual leaderboard tells an equally exciting story.

Junior Ash Kertpet currently ranks seventh among all ECC golfers, averaging an impressive 40.6 strokes per nine holes. Junior Elise Weinrich is also inside the conference's top 15, averaging 42.5, while sophomore Amy Wongsaroj is right behind her at 44.7.

That combination of experience, youth and depth has the Eagles positioned to make plenty of noise as the season moves forward.

Walnut Hills will continue its early-season run with a matchup against Ursuline on August 7, followed by a challenging schedule featuring some of the ECC's top programs. The Eagles will also return to Walden Ponds for the ECC Postseason Tournament on September 10, before postseason competition begins.

The season is still young, but the message from the Eagles has already been clear: Walnut Hills girls golf didn't come to play. They came to compete. 🦅🏌️

Strengthen the Mental Game!

At Walnut Hills Athletics, we encourage families to explore Performance Psychology as another resource to help student-athletes thrive—both in competition and in life.

Performance Psychology offers mental skills training, individual evaluations, therapy, and team and coaching development with services customized to each athlete's needs. Student-athletes can develop tools to build confidence, manage pressure, improve focus, navigate setbacks, and perform at their best.
