| 1  | Phenix Adams     | Josh Bishop          | This is the current team selection for the 2019 football season. These teams are fluid and can change from week to week. This is how the teams will be divided going into the first week of games. We want to stress that these teams can change. Please understand that it is the opinion of our coaching staff that this is the best situation currently for your athlete to be successful. Please let us know if you have any questions. |
